Date of Decision: 2023-04-20

General Information

Elective for: L4-fr

Language of instruction: The course will be given in Swedish

Aim

The objective of the course is to convey central knowledge and skills within the area of user rights in real property. The course particularly focuses on those who will be working with real estate management, but is also valuable for those working with more traditional land surveying tasks.

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

For a passing grade the student must

Be able to:

- Draft a correct land use agreement including clauses concerning breach of contract and sanctions for such breaches;
- Determine reasonable lease and compensation levels;
- Execute a termination of rights observing any existing protections with respect to user rights;

in situations involving the tenancy (hyra), tenant-ownership (bostadsrätt), and ground lease (arrende).

The student is also to be able to describe the fundamental contractual mechanisms for other residential user rights in real property.

Competences and skills

For a passing grade the student must

Be able to:

- Communicate in writing to an opposing party with respect to a dispute concerning user rights; and
- Make a reasoned decision among alternatives to handling such conflicts.

Judgement and approach

For a passing grade the student must

- Be able to recommend to tenants and lessees as well as landlords and owners of real estate how relationships stemming from the different types of use can be managed in order to avoid conflicts and in order for the parties to reach that which they desire through an agreement.

Contents

The major focus in the course is on tenancy (hyra), tenant-ownership (bostadsrätt), and ground lease (arrende). The course will also discuss other types of user rights in real property, mainly from comparative perspective.
